"How Do I Look?"

A woman asks this question. How much thought and study she devotes to it! It is natural. A woman hates to think that she is growing day by day less charming and attractive and youthful to her husband's eyes than in the days of courtship.

A woman may always retain her charms and the vivacity and freshness of youth if she will take the proper care of her health. A tremendous percentage of ill-health in women is due to weakness and disease of the distinctly feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is an unfailing remedy for all disorders of this nature. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration, stops debilitating drains and soothes and tones the nerves. It preserves in a woman all the charm of healthy youth. Thousands of women have testified to its marvelous effects.

"Favorite Prescription" is sold by all respectable dealers in medicines. Deal only where you are honestly treated. Any store-keeper who tries to give you a substitute for what you demand is not treating you honestly if you should take your trade elsewhere.

"For nine years I have suffered with fitting of internal organs," writes Mrs. Mary Williams of Raleigh, N. C. (Bur. 102). "I was troubled with bearing down pains. I had indigestion and I felt weak and nervous. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and had worn it faithfully. When I had been constipated and had worn it faithfully, the doctor here said that no medicine would reach me disease. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 'Pine-sap' Pellets' have cured me."

As every-day necessity in the home. A good home medical work. Send 21 cent postage stamps, to cover mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a paper-covered copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice.

Express and Freight... Cloth binding 31 stamps.

HIGH TONED BOOK AGENTS.

Men Who Only Sell Volumes Worth From $50 to $500.

"There is a distinct upper class of book agents who never come in contact with the general public," remarked Mr. Charles H. Meyers. "I have been interested in art publications for a number of years and know most of the tiptop salesmen in the country. They handle books that range from $50 to $500 in price and only call on people who figure on certain select lists. These lists are the result of the cullings of years, and, combined, they represent nearly all of the high class book buyers of the United States. Each publishing house has its own collection of names, and they are valued highly."

"I call to mind one firm that failed and went out of business several years ago and its roster of buyers was considered its very best asset. It was purchased for something like $5,000. The class of books handled by the agents to whom I refer would greatly astonish the everyday patron of the shops. They are printed in very limited editions, and every refinement of mechanical art is lavished on their preparation. Sometimes the edition numbers only 25 or 50, and as soon as it is off the press the type is taken down and distributed. The illustrations are frequently water color paintings or artists' proofs of etchings, and it is quite common for the vignette letters to be tinted by hand."

"Such books are never advertised, but are easily disposed of to the inner circle of rich connoisseurs. The agents who take the orders are the princes of the business. I know one who makes easily $10,000 a year, and they are nearly all well to do. They are continually on the go, but if you were to encounter one of them at a hotel the chances are you would never guess his vocation. What are the topics of the books they sell? Oh! They range from Shakespeare's comedies to Walton's complete angler—a little of everything."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

WILL COME IN TIME.

Has anyone estimated what Lovelock would be with a million dollar sugar beet factory? It must come in time.—Tribune.

It will come and of its own accord and others with them, when Nevada is placed upon an equality with other States in the matter of freight transportation, but not before.

All that the Tribune has said in regard to the productive qualities of the soil of Lovelock Valley and its adaptability to the culture of phenomenal crops of a superior quality of sugar beets is true, and it is equally true of nearly every valley in the State. Bountiful nature, however, cannot compete with such outrageous discrimination as is imposed by the Southern Pacific Railroad Company against the State of Nevada, and the people might as well recognize and acknowledge the fact first as last, for until the obstruction is removed the sugar industry will never gain a foothold within our borders. Notwithstanding our cheap lands and their peculiar adaptability to the successful cultivation of the sugar producing vegetable, they can never be utilized for that purpose while the cost of transporting supplies and products remain at the present discriminating rates. Capitalists understand this matter thoroughly and will never invest in such enterprises under the present disadvantageous conditions and circumstances. But for that single obstruction, half a dozen factories would now be running at full blast in the State. Remove it, and in two years thereafter, thousands of acres of now idle land will be under cultivation and teeming with material for the manufacture of one of the greatest staples known in the commercial world,

But how to remove the obstruction? It is quite certain that it cannot be done so long as the Southern Pacific controls the politics of the State. So long as the State government is a machine of that corporation and its power utilized for grinding its grip of oppression, and so long as our legislators are creatures of that monopoly and obedient to the beck and call of its political agents, nothing can be done toward the removal of the obstruction. That has been tried for years and the result has been progress from bad to worse. Fortified with two United States Senators at Washington, a State government subservient to its purposes, and legislatures submissive to the whip and spur of the railroad's political boss, what better condition of things could be expected? All, or at least a part of this must be changed before Nevada can, or will be favorably considered as a place for the investment of capital for manufacturing purposes.

Let the people next year elect a legislature composed of honest, intelligent and independent members; not anti-railroad cranks or extremists, for they would effect nothing and would do more harm than good. Let the legislature be composed of men of clear heads, liberal minds and honesty of purpose who will not seek to oppress the railroad corporation, but who will demand even-handed justice at its hands and who will accept nothing less. Such a body with its power to regulate local fares and freights, and such truthful expression of the sentiments of the people as it would represent, would be a long step in the direction of the needed reform.

Instead of a quiet and submissive acquiescence to our wrongs, a plain, straightforward and truthful statement would be made to the Interstate Commission, which would doubtless have a wholesome effect in matters beyond the jurisdiction of our local legislature.

Heretofore all such declarations and protests have been crushed in their incipiency, and those who have the power to right our wrongs, either do not know that any exist, or reasonably conclude that people who have not the independence and manliness to assert their rights deserve no consideration at their hands.

Let the experiment be tried next year. Let such a legislature as we have described be elected, and it will accomplish more in a single session in attracting manufacturing capital to this State than forty volumes of printed matter descriptive of the wondrous resources of the State. The latter speak for themselves, but it remains for the people to speak, to insure the possibilities of their development and utilization.

BREVITIES.

WHILE Alger was absent lately, by order of the President and at Alger's suggestion, General Miles acted temporarily as Secretary of War. During the short time he was in that position he was scrubbed by nearly every subordinate around the department and was subjected to every possible humiliation that a petty and contemptible mind could conceive. Sunday's dispatches state it is believed at Washington that General Miles was placed in the position for the express purpose of giving Alger's underlings and flunkies opportunities to treat him with disrespect. President McKinley might have hunted the country over without finding a more contemptible and narrow minded rascal to place in his cabinet than that same man Alger.

ALTHOUGH it has been proven beyond a possible doubt that Dreyfus was not guilty of the crime for which he was tried, it is by no means certain that this deeply wronged man will be acquitted of the charges against him. In the history of the world there has never been a national crime more infamous than this outrageous and shameless torture and persecution of an innocent man. If he is not honorably acquitted and all possible reparation made by the country which has so mistreated him, the name of France will no longer deserve honorable mention in the political histories of nations.

Brave Men Fall.

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the result in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, rundown feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents, at S. J. Hodgkin's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

Marriage License.

The following marriage licenses were issued yesterday by County Clerk Porter:

Frederick Gould and Eva E. Gould, both of Reno.

Henry James Nichols and Golbie Thompson, both of Crockett, Cal.

Chris P. Sorenson and Sarah Shane, both of Placer county, Cal.

Distinguishing Marks.

An Italian at Dayton has been arrested and is in jail for using marked cards in a poker game. Since the gubernatorial contest commenced we have heard a good deal about marked ballots, but never before knew that it was a statutory offense to place a "distinguishing mark" on the ace of spades or jack of clubs.

Injured.

Mrs. Haydon, wife of Judge Haydon, while driving to town last Saturday night from the farm east of Reno, met with a painful but not serious accident. The horse she was driving stepped through a defective culvert and in struggling to regain his feet threw her from the cart, severely bruising her about the face and head.

Suspended Publication.

We learn from the Independent that the Elko Tidings has suspended publication. The Tidings was a good paper and welcome exchange. Its demise emphasizes the folly, however, of trying to run two papers in a one paper town.

Ice Cream Parlors.

The Palace Bakery rooms are not only the cosiest and most dignified place of its kind in town, but we also assert, without fear of contradiction, that our goods and service are far superior to any.

Building a Farm House.

Judges Haydon is building a two-story house, thirty feet square, at his ranch in Spanish Springs Valley, to take the place of the one destroyed by fire several months ago.

Applicants for Admission.

The examination for applicants for admission to the bar will take place before the Supreme Court at 10 A. M. Saturday, July 29th.

THEIR FIRST HORSE CAR.

The People Were So Delighted That They Rode All Day.

"I made the survey for the street car lines in the City of Mexico," said the civil engineer, "and when we got the tracks down and the cars running we had a laughable time. Young men of the first families not only ventured to act as drivers and conductors, but insisted on taking those places without wages. The thing was like a new toy to children. People paid fare or withheld it, just as they saw fit, and some would ride around for half a day. The Yankee superintendent of the lines was in a sweat all the time, but it was kicking against a stone wall."

"The tracks were single ones, with switches here and there for the cars to pass, but such little things didn't bother the drivers. Some of them would start the mules on a dead run and go clear to the end of the line, and others would pull out on a switch and go to sleep or indulge in games with the passengers. I guess it was two months before the drivers consented to give up their siesta hours. At 12 o'clock precisely the mules were brought to a halt, no matter where the car was, and the driver would walk off to eat, sleep and smoke and be gone two hours. No Mexican ever hurries. Most of the complaints received were to the effect that the cars went too fast. Even after we got things somewhat systematic, Don Pablo Chora, the president of the road, returned from a trip one day to say to the manager:

"Ah, señor, but I am afraid we shall never get our people to accept this enterprise."

"What is wrong now?" was asked.

"Why, one of our greatest merchants paid his fare to be taken to the Alameda in 20 minutes, and, lo and behold, the driver cut the time down to 15! We shall be ruined by moving folks around too quickly. Let us tie up the legs of the mules and take the whips away from the drivers!" —New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Making Steel Pens.

Briefly described, steel pens are made as follows: First the steel is rolled into big sheets and then cut into strips about three inches in width. These are heated to a bright red and are then allowed to cool gradually, which tempers them. They are next rolled to the necessary thinness and are cut into blank flat pens, and the pens, while flat, are usually stamped with the brand or the name of the manufacturer. To shape the pens is the next process. The rounding makes them hold the ink and distribute it more evenly than could be done if they were flat. To harden them they are heated to a cherry red and then suddenly cooled. This not only hardens them, but makes them elastic. The polishing, pointing and finishing come next, and then they are ready for use. The little holes in the pens at the end of the slits serve to make them more elastic and to facilitate the flow of the ink.

It is said that more steel is now used in the manufacture of pens than in that of swords. It is even claimed that the metal annually used in the manufacture weighs more than all the metal used in the manufacture of war implements. —Detroit Free Press.

Very Plain Reasons Why

We Sell Cheapest

Claims of supremacy are ineffectual unless they are backed by solid arguments that establish absolute facts. Exaggeration flows easily and smoothly from many retail sources. We could advertise wildly and frantically, but crediting the public with intelligence and powers of discrimination, we prefer to print our modest statement, and calmly sustain them with the most logical of reasons, for in "ance":

No retailer in the world buys goods more advantageously than the Novelty Dry Goods Store Co. Frequently we may not secure staple articles for less money than others pay, but we invariably sell cheaper.

BECAUSE WE ARE SATISFIED WITH SMALLER PROFITS

The actual amount paid for goods is only a part of their cash. Every man and woman understands that each department must contribute its pro rata percentage for general store expenses—including losses that the credit system involves.

Four Reasons Why Our Prices are Lowest:

WE DO NOT SELL ON CREDIT

WE DO NOT GIVE DISCOUNTS

WE ARE VERY CLOSE BUYERS

WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT

Other stores tax cash customers for losses sustained by delinquent credit customers. Other stores levy tribute from you to compensate for discounts and commissions granted a favored few. WE DO NOT. You only pay the discount. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT. You only pay the discount. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT.

WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT.

WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT. WE ARE NOT EXTRAVAGANT.

"I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm," writes W. H. Stapleton, Herminie, Pa. "I have been afflicted with rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without number, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application relieves the pain. For sale by Wm. Pinniger.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effective cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucus, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all its dangerous consequences.

INDIAN HAL.

A Pitt River Indian Who Amalgated with the Shoshones.

"Indian Hal, a noted character around town, died at the hospital Wednesday afternoon."

The above clipping is from the Elk's Tidings, and the deceased Indian referred to was evidently "Hal McDonald," whose history is a rather remarkable one as illustrative of the difficulty of overcoming or extinguishing aboriginal traits and instincts by the ordinary processes of civilization. Hal was of the Pitt River tribe, and was an infant in arms when the Indians of that section, after a short but rather sanguinary war, were captured en masse by the United States troops that were engaged against them. The entire tribe, bucks, squaws and papooses, were taken to a reservation in southern California or Arizona.

In passing through Sacramento, a number of the Indian children were given to residents of that city who adopted and reared them. Among them was "Hal," who was taken in charge by Archie McDonald, then a resident of Yolo county. This was in the fifties, and Hal was an infant hardly able to toddle. He was raised with Mr. McDonald's family, exclusively among white associates, the same as the McDonald children, and probably never spoke to or saw one of his race until he came to Nevada in 1862.

Some time in the late sixties Mrs. McDonald died, the family was broken up and Hal, then a youth of sixteen or seventeen years, was thrown upon the world to shift for himself. Up to that time he had never associated with Indians nor seemed to regard himself as one of their class or race.

For several years he picked up a living in Austin by boot blacking, cleaning saloons and such light work, when he suddenly disappeared and no one seemed to know what had become of him. One day in the early seventies the writer of this happened to be in Palisade, when an Indian with painted face, feathers in hat, blanket and moccasins all complete came up to him and in good every-day English called him by name. The writer of course did not recognize him but supposed he was a detective or someone masquerading for a lark, until the wild looking customer announced himself as "Hal McDonald," when he asked why he was made up in that fashion, he gave no explanation except that he thought he could do better among the Indians and make an easier living than by working for the whites. He illustrated his easy living theory by striking his acquaintance for half a dollar. Since that time, when not in jail, he has lived among the Indians, mostly the Shoshones although sometimes he inflicted himself upon the Piutes, but his visits to the latter were short and far between as his welcome to their wigwams were neither warm nor hearty ones. He possessed all the vices of the white and Indian races with none of the virtues of either. He was a terror to the red men and a nuisance to the whites. But he is a good Indian now because he is dead. Peace to his ashes.

District Court.

The case of A. J. Fortier vs. C. H. Gardner et al. was taken up yesterday, Judge E. V. Spencer of Susanville acting as attorney for Gardner and Judge Wm. Webster for Fortier. The case continued throughout the day, and at 4 o'clock was adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. The suit is brought to foreclose a mortgage, which, owing to an error in recording, is placed on different property than that which was intended.

The action of Bell vs. Nickel Syndicate was dismissed on a motion made by plaintiff's lawyer and stipulation on file. This case has been hanging in the courts for a number of years.

In the matter of the estate of W. D. Epperson, deceased, an instrument purporting to be the last will was submitted and the testimony of Mrs. Epperson heard. The matter was taken under advisement by the court.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern in the land which is not afraid to be generous to the needy and suffering. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million dollars of this great medicine; and have the satisfaction of knowing it has absolutely cured thousands of hopeless cases.

Asthma, bronchitis, hoarseness and all diseases of the throat, chest and lungs are surely cured by it. Call on S. J. Hodgkinson, Druggist, and get a trial bottle. Regular size, 50 cents and $1. Every bottle guaranteed, or price refunded.

Carloads of Silver.

The JOURNAL is informed that orders have been received from Washington for the removal of all of the silver at the Carson mint. There are eight or ten carloads of dollars and bullion in storage there. As the white metal appears to be a drug on the Washington market, why not leave it in Nevada where it was extracted from the womb of mother earth? Nevadans could find a use for it, if Uncle Sam would give them the chance.

French Tasty Wafers.

The world's famous remedy for painful period and irregularities, regardless of cause, are never failing and safe. The wafers are the married woman's best friend. The only reliable female regulator; imported Paris. Take nothing else but insist on the genuine, red rappers, with our trade mark. La France Drug Co., importers, 306 Turk street, San Francisco.

Stage Accident.

The four-horse stage running from Truckee to Tahoe City, on the lake, was upset last Sunday evening four miles from Tahoe City. Twelve people were on the stage, of whom the driver, Sam York, is probably fatally injured. Antone Heutelman of the Cleveland Faucet Company, San Francisco, is badly bruised about the legs, but no bones are broken. Fergie Burns of the Western Hotel, Sacramento, with his wife and boy, were badly shaken up, and Mrs. Burns had a sprained arm. One man had the small bone of his leg broken, but declined to have his name published. Three ladies are slightly bruised and scratched, but are not seriously injured. York was cautious and one of the safest drivers in the mountains, but the team became unmanageable.

Announcement.

I have just received a complete line of working and odd shirts of the latest patterns and styles, which I will sell at bedrock prices. I wish to call particular attention to a working shirt I am handling. It is undoubtedly the best working shirt that was ever sold on the Coast for the money. Call and examine the same.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is riveted, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Free employment office in connection with the store.

ALFRED NELSON.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. S. Edwards, publisher of the Review, Wyant, Ill. For sale by W. Pinniger.

Fist Fights.

Three fist fights occurred in town last evening, three men were "licked," as many were victorious, and some of the contestants are now languishing in the county calaboose.

It seems that the prevailing climatic conditions have material influence in inducing a bellicose spirit among the would-be toughs. It would perhaps be beneficial to everyone if these fire-eating fossil oil flippers would, Kilkenny cat-like, eat each other up. This would not be obliged to stand the expense of a hobo planting job.

Closing Out.

I am closing out my entire stock of dry goods at actual wholesale cost for cash only; for the purpose of re-opening next door when the building is finished, with altogether new fall and winter goods. Everybody should take advantage of this sale. Every article, from the finest dress goods and silks to the simplest domestic goods and fancy goods, is reduced to cost price and must be sold before removing.

Working Night and Day.

The busiest and mightiest little thing that ever was made is Dr. King's New Life Pills. Every pill is a sugar-coated globule of health, that changes weakness into strength, listlessness into energy, brain-fag into mental power. They're wonderful in building up the health. Only 25cts. per box.

Bedbugs Galore.

Dr. Patterson is waging a war at the asylum more sanguinary than that in which General Ota is engaged at the Philippines. It isn't Filipinos that the doctor is after, but bedbugs, of which there are myriads at the institution where he is commander-in-chief. For years the asylum has been a favorite rendezvous for these noxious pests, and they have so entrenched themselves behind the wainscoting that it has been impossible to dislodge them, and all that could be done was to keep them down to the lowest possible limit. The doctor, however, has blood in his eye and declares that he will fight it out on that line if it takes him all summer. We forget how many millions and a half have already fallen beneath his ruthless sword, or rather his powder squirter; but the number is greater than the votes that McKinley will get in 1900, and there are enough left to stock all the ranches in the State, with a wheelbarrow load to spare for Carson City.

Railroad Assessment.

Assessor Evans has assessed the V.

& T. track at $6,000 per mile, side track

$3,000. The N.C.O. (narrow gauge) is assessed at $2,000 per mile. The Central Pacific has not yet been assessed. Last year it was assessed at $14,000 per mile, but the Board of Equalization reduced it to $13,000.

No matter at what it is assessed this year, it is a safe bet that the company will ask for a reduction. It wouldn't be the Southern Pacific if it didn't.

To the Public.

E. Martin & Co. will take charge of the French Hotel this morning. V.

Bonnetti having retired. The hotel will be conducted in a first-class manner as heretofore. Our friends and the public generally are invited to call and see us.
